

Newcomer Initiative for Arabic-Speaking Youth

With generous funding from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC), we have recently launched a pilot service through which we are offering our telephone counselling service, in Arabic, facilitated by an interpreter service, for a trial period of six months (May – October 2020). We are thrilled to be offering this new service that enables Kids Help Phone to become more culturally and linguistically inclusive in our service delivery and innovation.

If you are aware of or work closely with Arabic-Speaking young people who might benefit from availing our new service, we encourage you to share this pilot service further with them through the attached (and hyperlinked) promotional materials. These include: -

Wallet cards - contains some basic information for youth. Available in English and Arabic.

One-pager information sheet – for additional information about our counsellors, interpreters and how the service works Available in English and Arabic.

Social share image - horizontal (Twitter). Available in English and Arabic.

Social share image - square (Instagram, Facebook & LinkedIn). Available in English and Arabic.

If you wish to share this new service on social media, feel free to use our social share images along with the following text: -
